Conditions of Factory Certification as an Inner Range Accredited Dealer

1. The Inner Range Accredited Dealer Certification Programme is intended to provide benefits to all stakeholders, namely the manufacturing company (Inner Range), the installation business or company (the applicant company) and the end-user (the customer). The applicant company acknowledges the above stakeholders as having a vested interest in the success of the programme.
2. Inner Range benefits from increased competence and diligence of the Factory Certified Technician and the installation company respectively. Quality installation and maintenance contribute to favorable market perception of Inner Range's CONCEPT range of products. The applicant company acknowledges this.
3. Successful applicants benefits from the market advantage achieved through association with the manufacturing company of the product being installed or maintained and the advertising and promotion of the programme by Inner Range. The applicant company acknowledges this.
4. The customer benefits by having an identifiable benchmark by which to measure the competence and diligence of the installation company that is to carry out work on their Concept product. Furthermore, they may confirm the current status of the Inner Range Accredited Dealer by visiting the Inner Range web site. The applicant company acknowledges this.
5. The applicant company understands and agrees that Factory Certification as an Inner Range Accredited Dealer is awarded at the sole discretion of Inner Range and may be withdrawn by Inner Range at any time with or without cause.
6. Notwithstanding Clause 5, the applicant company understands and agrees that Factory Certification is not automatically granted to the applicant company and that certification takes affect only upon receipt of written confirmation from Inner Range that the applicant company has been granted Factory Certification and pursuant to all conditions of certification being met and continuing to be met by the applicant company.
7. Notwithstanding Clause 5, Accredited Dealer certification is conditional upon the applicant company's initial and continued adherence to the Accredited Dealer's Code of Practice, as published on the Inner Range web site. The applicant company acknowledges this requirement and agrees to comply with the Accredited Dealer's Code of Practice for the duration of its period of certification.
8. The applicant understands and agrees that these Conditions of Factory Certification are intended to raise standards of performance with respect to the installation and maintenance of Inner Range Concept products and to re-assure customers that the electronics security industry is an industry which promotes the highest levels of professionalism and proficiency.
